CLOYD HECK MARVIN

PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY

President Marvin has performed extraordinary services and given outstanding leadership as President of the George Washington University during the past quarter of a century. Appointed to the presidency in 1927, President Marvin with energy and foresight embarked on a program of expansion to bring to reality a University worthy of the Nation's Capital. He has obtained during his tenure of office complete accreditation of the University and recognition of its Graduate Program by increasing its academic standards and reorganizing its curriculum, faculty and administration.

This Fall Dr. Marvin was presented by Phi Delta Kappa, the national professional educational fraternity, with a hand illuminated Commemorative Citation for the credit he has brought to himself, to his profession, and to the University.

THE JUNIOR COLLEGE

The Junior College, established in 1930, comprises the first two years of the four-year college program in liberal arts and sciences; two years of pre-professional courses; and two year terminal courses. Each of these curricula leads to a degree of Associate in Arts. The Junior College curricula continue the studies of a general cultural nature and lay a foundation for more specialized work to follow. The Junior College also provides the pre-professional work required for admission to the schools of Pharmacy, Education, and Government, and the first two years of the pre-professional work required by the schools of Medicine and Law.

DIVISION OF SPECIAL STUDENTS

DEAN WARREN REED WEST

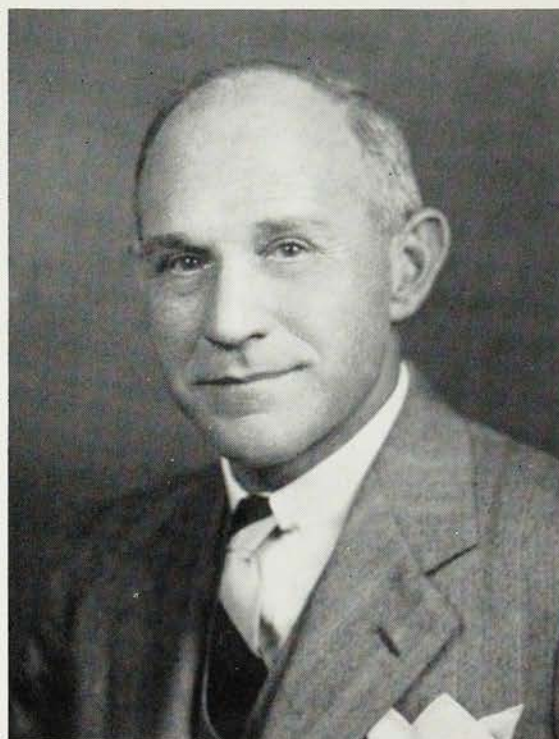

To the Division of Special Students are admitted those students in the process of qualifying for degree candidacy. The student's schedule is made up of the courses required in the curriculum to which he desires to transfer. He may transfer to another division upon complying with the regulations of that specific school or division. The Division of Special Students was organized in 1944.

DIVISION OF UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

DEAN ELMER L. KAYSER

The Division of University Students, organized in 1930, makes available courses for mature students who wish to take courses for credit or as auditors but who are not now candidates for degrees in this University. A University Student may transfer to regular status upon complying with the regulations of the specific school or college to which he wishes to transfer.

COLLEGE OF GENERAL STUDIES

DEAN MITCHELL DREESE

Established in 1950, the College of General Studies is designed to supplement the adult education program of the University through its Off-Campus Division, Campus Division, and Division of Community Services. The George Washington Reading Clinic and George Washington Counseling Center are under the guidance of this enterprising new division.

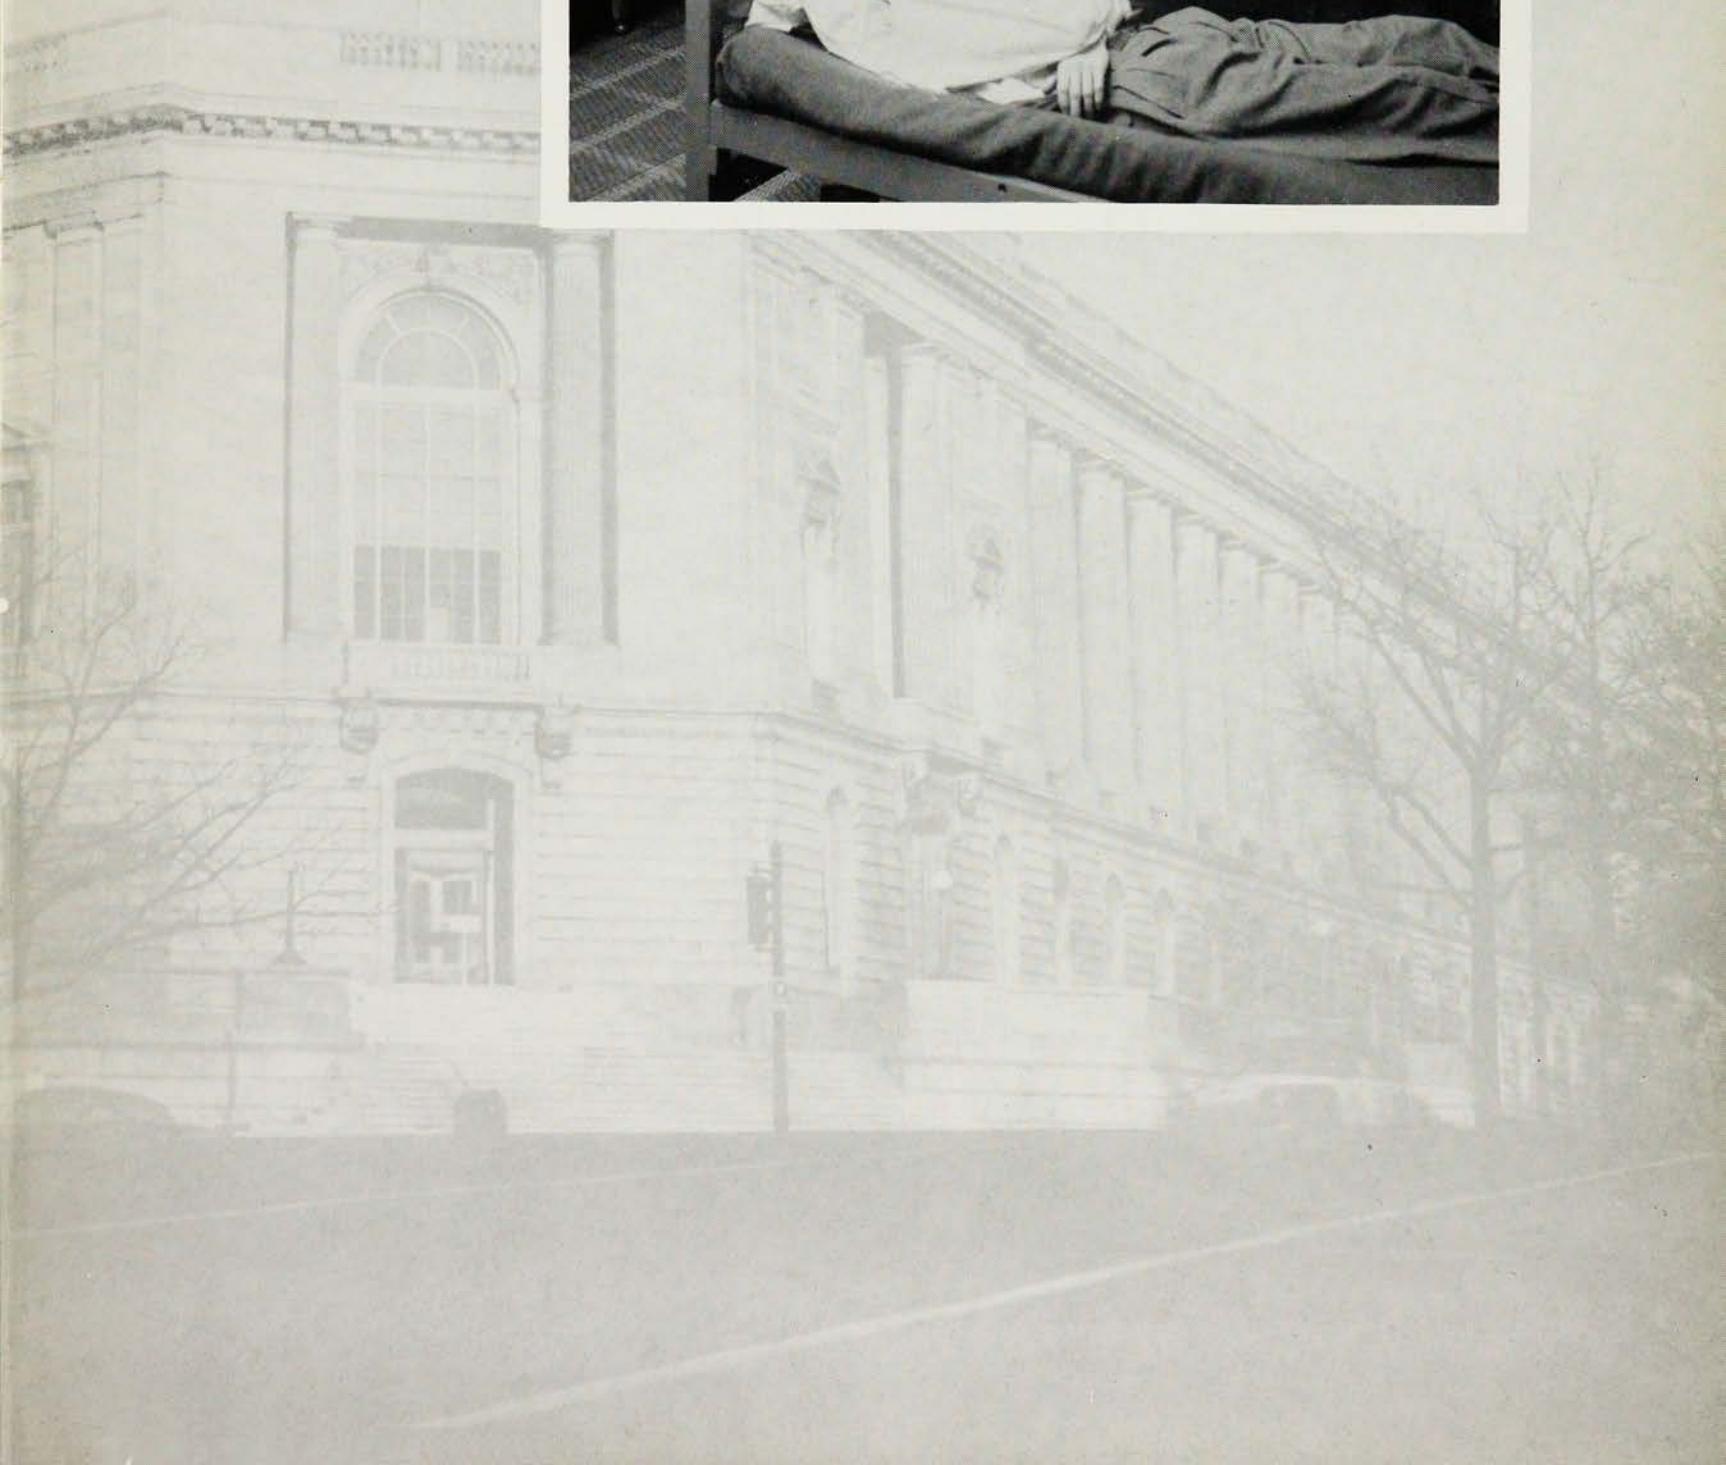

How can you belong to twelve clubs and still go out for sports? And aren't you supposed to study too? As a freshman you sign up for everything in the book. You want to get to know people, what this college life is all about. You gradually drop out of all but one or two. Me? For president? Jack Thorne, Business Manager, points out a problem to Jim Swisher, Advertising Manager.

The great University weekly, the "Hatchet." At G. W., everybody glances at the "Hatchet," and nearly everyone who is literate reads the "Hatchet." "All the news that fits—we print. Never let the truth interfere with a good story."

The junior and senior staffs seem to grow smaller each year. The sub-editors always work diligently as they hope to reach the status of the illustrious who comprise the Board of Editors. Sunday afternoons, evenings, and nights the "Hatchet" staff works to bring the students the facts — the real facts — and nothing but the facts.

The 1954 CHERRY TREE, born in Nashville, Tenn., in September of 1953, is a production of many heads and many hands. To Ralph Langreck, who could not only direct, but party with the staff, to Ned Rose, who came to the rescue when all was lost, to the students of the University, who provided the material, whether willing or unwilling, this book is dedicated. The grey-haired Editors and staff very proudly present their scarlet book!

Everyone enjoys a square dance!

NOW SWING YOUR PARTNER, DO-SE-DO

The Dance Production groups have continued this year to provide fine entertainment for the University and to act as its ambassadors outside the University. The successful Folk and Square Dance and Social Dance programs proved hits again this year. In the spring of 1953, Group I was invited to Middleburg, Virginia, to give an exhibition program. It has appeared on television since then and has participated in the Cherry Blossom festival. The Modern Dance Concert, the biggest event of the year for the group, included Tales of Tomorrow, Fable of the Donkey, and several ballads based on Blue Ridge Mountain Ballads, as well as two abstract dances.

The University Dramatic Activities, with Mr. William Callahan as Managing Director, continued this year on the 60%-40% University Community basis, drawing 60% of the actors and technicians from the student body and 40% from the community.

The first production, given in October, was the comedy "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." The musical "Sing Out Sweet Land," a summary of the growth of the nation's music from colonial times to the present. To round out the year's dramatic activities, "The Corn is Green" was given in February and "The Imaginary Invalid" in April. The Dance Concert was also sponsored in the spring.

A GAME A CUP . . .

Sue Scott tries on "George's" head for size.

Colonial Boosters is set up to coordinate and direct school spirit. With this aim in mind, the Booster Board organizes pep rallies, parades, cavalcades, and half-time entertainment. Poster contests at the pep rallies were a new innovation. Half-time entertainment at the football games included an Army drill team, a Shriner's show, and marching bands. Booster books, sold at the beginning of the school year, entitled each holder to two seats in the Booster section, which constituted the core of the cheering section. Colonial flags and shakers were distributed to people in the Booster section. Cups were awarded at the Goat Show to the sorority and fraternity which did the most to promote school spirit. This year the Booster cups were won by Zeta Tau Alpha and Phi Sigma Kappa.

YO-HO-HO AND A MUG OF OLD POTOMAC

The purpose of the Sailing Association is to promote better seamanship, greater appreciation for sailing as a recreation and a sport, and to engage in intercollegiate competition. The Association is co-educational, and is strictly a social recreational group. Instructions in sailing are offered to the inexperienced. Sailing programs are held every week-end. Business meetings are held every two weeks. The biggest event of the year is the annual Frostbite Regatta in December, to which the whole school is invited.

PRACTICING THE TIMELY ART OF HOMEMAKING

The Home Economics Club is open to all girls who are taking courses in home economics. The Club's activities give the members an opportunity to put into practice what they have learned in class. The Club invites speakers who discuss the different phases of home economics. A tea at the British Embassy, the Christmas Bazaar, and a program on Greece highlighted the Club's activities. The Home Economics Club also presents programs in conjunction with Alpha Pi Epsilon, the home economics honorary.

A FRIENDLY HAND AND SAGE ADVICE

Big Sis is the organization which helps in orienting new women students to the University. Each Big Sis contacts her little sisters before school begins. The Coffee Hour before registration is an opportunity for all Big and Little Sisters to meet and plan their schedules. Mortar Board's skit on "Classroom Types" showed how not to win friends and influence professors. At the Tips and Tea with Topnotchers, new students are introduced to campus leaders. The Delphi fashion show with co-ed models showed newcomers appropriate clothes for all phases of life at G.W. Campus tours were conducted by Big Sisters throughout Orientation Week. Nosebag lunches were held in the Big Sis Lounge.

TWO O'CLOCKS, GAB SESSIONS, A BROKEN ELEVATOR

Strong Hall dormitory council is composed of two girls elected from each floor. The president of the council is elected in March by all the girls in the dorm. She acts as chairman of the council, which organizes the business and social activities of the dormitory. A buffet supper was given at the beginning of the orientation week. Parties were given on Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas. A formal tea honoring the girls' favorite professors was also sponsored by the dorm council. The Christmas Party was highlighted by the award of a prize by Santa Claus to the girls with the best decorated door. There were also several exchanges between the floors of the dormitory.

TEST TUBES, A SCHOLARSHIP, AND FRIENDLY CONTACT

Alpha Zeta Omega is a national professional pharmaceutical fraternity made up of students and alumni. The fraternity keeps itself informed on trends in pharmacy and benefits its members by forming social contacts with professional pharmacists. The Washington chapter with the help of the student branch publishes a newspaper for pharmacists in the city. A yearly scholarship in Pharmacy at the University is given by the Washington chapter to an outstanding high school graduate of the District of Columbia. A number of speakers add interest to the regular business meetings.

PHARMACY, LECTURES AND FUN

Kappa Psi is a professional pharmacy fraternity, whose members must be enrolled in accredited schools of pharmacy and must have complied with the requirements set forth by Kappa Psi and the college of pharmacy they attend. The purpose of this organization is to conduct a fraternal organization for the mutual benefit of its members and the profession of pharmacy. Meetings are held twice a month and a dance is given at the end of the year in honor of graduating members.

Sigma Alpha Eta is the honorary for majors in speech correction. It provides the opportunity for students to bring classroom theory into actual practice, and to enrich their knowledge of the field outside the classroom. A variety of programs at their meetings have featured addresses by prominent speech professors and leaders in the field. Sigma Alpha Eta also sponsored the Speech Forum at the Career Conference.

The Newman Club is an organization for Catholic students. Its program is three-fold, embracing religious, intellectual, and social activities. The weekly meetings alternate business meetings and program meetings. Communion, with breakfast following, is held once a month. Summer activities of the Newman Club included a get-acquainted party, a beach party at Westmoreland Park, Virginia, and a benefit party to finance the Club's national convention delegate. Highlights of the fall and spring semesters included a Halloween masquerade party, a spaghetti dinner, an Epiphany party with St. Stephens Social Club, and a Province Convention. The biggest social event given by the Newman Club is the traditional Campus Celebrity Capers, at which ten campus celebrities are honored.

COMMON INTERESTS AND PERSONAL COUNSELLING

Hillel is organized to promote fellowship among students of the Jewish faith and to foster their religious, cultural, and social life. Hillel's activities include religious services, socials, films, recorded concert series, monthly coffee hours with University professors, and the annual "Ball of Fire." Hillel publishes a newspaper, the Hillel Commentary, and sponsors an annual creative writing contest open to all students, as well as courses in Hebrew for Jewish students. Hillel also has art, choral, crafts, and dramatic groups, and maintains its own snack bar.

AN INTEREST IN FOREIGN RELATIONS

Delta Phi Epsilon is a professional fraternity for men interested in foreign affairs. Its purpose is to provide a broader outlook in the field of foreign affairs and to bring together students with similar interests. Members of the fraternity must have completed 45 hours and one semester at the University. Delta Phi Epsilon is open to all students, regardless of their majors, who have a definite interest in international relations and think their work may carry them into the field, whether here or abroad.

"TO TEACH THE YOUTH OF AMERICA"

The Future Teachers of America is a professional organization sponsored by the National Education Association, and its members are students in the field of education. Its purpose is to promote interest in the teaching profession and in general educational work, and to encourage more able and promising students to go into educational work who might otherwise go into other fields. Distinguished speakers from all fields of education speak at the meetings on the myriad opportunities in the field of education.

Alpha Kappa Psi is the first and oldest professional fraternity for students majoring in commerce and business administration. Its purpose is to further the individual welfare of its members; to foster scientific research in the fields of commerce, accounts, and finance; to educate the public to appreciate and demand higher ideals therein; and to promote and advance, in institutions of college rank, courses leading to degrees in business administration. Alpha Kappa Psi helps to sponsor the forum on business administration at the Career Conference.

Pi Kappa Alpha completed a year of varied and interesting annual events. There was the Pledge-Active athletic competition, the Halloween Hay Ride, the Christmas Party, the Dream Girl Dance at which AdPi, Ellen Wyvill, was chosen Dream Girl. PiKA's were honored by a Scholarship Award from their National Office. They gained second place for the Boosters Cup. And in the I.F.C. Sing, they did a great job and came up with the second place honors. Lots of fun was had at the annual Shipwreck Ball where Cinda Murdock was Queen of the Shipwreck. Exchanges, theme parties, Hobo Jungle, Ocean City Preview, cap the remainder of the social program. Come party with us?

Alpha Epsilon Pi house on G Street remained standing in 1953 even though the tempo of terrific parties one after another attracted half of the University students to its doors. AEPi-men saw a bright new athletic era dawn and as of this writing they stand third among all fraternities in points toward the All-U Cup. They saw brother Ed Jaffee elected to Gate and Key, four brothers won University scholarships. And those pearl-crested pins for the most part stayed with the brothers. Their ever-cheerful sweetheart, Lennie Gordon, became ill just before Homecoming. It broke her heart and it is to her we dedicate this page. With love from all the men of AEPi!

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

The purpose of the Interfraternity Council is to foster better interfraternity relations and to act as a coordinating and governing body for all the fraternities. IFC annually sponsors Greek Week. Highlight of Greek Week are the IFC Prom and the Interfraternity Sing, at which time individual fraternities compete for the coveted Sing cup. Each fraternity holds an open house during Greek Week to which all other Greeks on campus are invited. This year a new and most worthy project has been undertaken by the IFC, that of adopting a war orphan. Under the Foster Parents Plan, the IFC will support the war orphan and receive pictures and communications relating to the child from the Foster Parents Association.

Panhellenic Council is the legislative and judiciary body for the sororities and is composed of the Panhellenic delegates and the president of each of the eleven sororities. The Council works to promote intersorority spirit and to coordinate sorority activities into a well balanced program. The organization of Membership Selection is first on the Council's agenda. After pledging, the Junior Panhellenic Council is organized. Junior Panhellenic gives an annual Goat Show, at which time the pledges of each sorority give an original skit. The Panhellenic Sing and the Panhellenic Prom are major events of the spring semester. The Council annually awards cups to the chapter and the pledge class with the highest scholastic averages.

SEASON RECORD

F O O T B A L L

When the opening whistle sounded for football last fall, Buff spirit was high. 1953 was the second year under Head Coach Eugene "Bo" Sherman and the second season of the Split 'T' formation at GW. To go with coach and system was an "intangible" spirit. The 1953 Colonial eleven was a veteran outfit even though there were but seven seniors on the team. Many of the razzle dazzle freshmen of 1952 returned as mature, self confident sophomores in 1953. This spirit of confidence was evident in the coaching staff, in the co-captains Steve Korcheck and Dick Drake, and in the whole squad.

Another factor for optimism was the return of one platoon football. The Colonials, always short of manpower in two platoon days, now felt they could match most teams in both quality and quantity. The season opened with a narrow squeeze over Virginia Military Institute. The following Saturday found the Colonials tripping North Carolina State. This pair of wins plus the trio of victories at the tail end of 1952 gave the Buff their longest post-war winning streak—five games. All that was to go by the boards in the following three games as the G-Streeters lost heartbreakers to Virginia, West Virginia, and William & Mary. The year's record was stabilized when the Buff battered Washington & Lee in a game played at Lexington.

The stage was set for one of the greatest performances ever turned in by a George Washington team. The 10,000 fans who braved the chill of that drab November day saw history made as an underdog, but dead game Buff team held the National Champions, Maryland, to a 7-6 lead at half time. This was, indeed, the high point of the season. The Colonials closed the 1953 schedule with highly convincing wins over Davidson and Richmond. Thus, the Sherman-coached eleven completed a second winning season.

Hopes for 1954 are bright despite the loss of such stalwarts as All-America Steve Korcheck and Split 'T' quarterback Ray Fox. Such linemen as Carl Bodolus, Bill Neal, Dick Drake, Tom Bosmans and John Prach, will be sorely missed. The long days of famine are over for Colonial rooters, for the Buff promise to win more in '54.

Dick Gaspari's two perfect placements proved to be the difference as the Colonials opened the season with a 14-13 win over Virginia Military Institute at Lexington. The Buff tallies were scored by Bob Sturm and Bill Weaver. A long 59-yard pass from Sturm to All-Southern Conference end Richie Gaskell set up the first touchdown. With great Johnny Mapp leading the way Keydets trailed 7-6 at the half. Both squads scored in the third period and the game settled into a hard fought stalemate in the final quarter. Steve Korcheck's timely interception stopped a VMI drive and the play of the whole team especially in the late stages was highly responsible for keeping the slim lead until the final gun sounded. The statistics bear out the closeness of the tilt with the Colonials chalking up 15 first downs to the Keydets' 16.

G.W. 20 • NORTH CAROLINA STATE 7

Steve Korcheck's interception in the third period broke open a scoreless tie and enabled the Buff to win their second in a row and their fifth straight over a two year span. After All-America Steve rambled 26 yards for a six pointer, Ray Fox hit fleet Len Cierniecki with a 60 yard scoring pass. Preceding this outburst the Colonials had made several threats at the Wolfpack goal in the first half, but failed to score. The hometown fans who came out to see the Buff must have wondered if the G-Streyers left their scoring punch in the locker room. The Sherman club added another TD in the final stanza when Skinny Saffer passed to Bill Weaver. Don Langston scored for State late in the game. The Colonials took a place in the nation's top ten after this game as far as passing was concerned. Their 145 yards gained through the air plus the 134 from the preceding week stamped the Colonials as a dangerous air team.

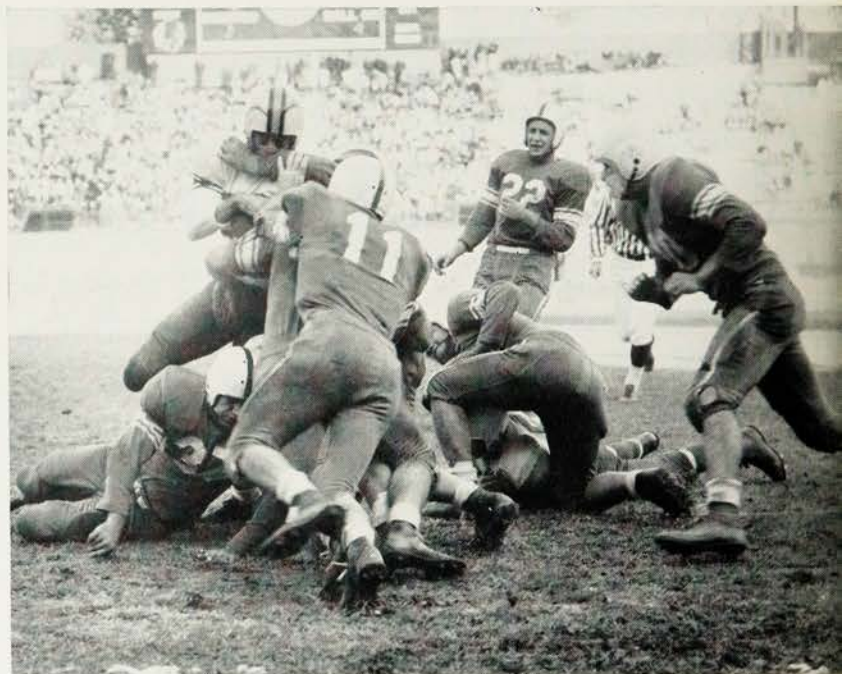

Disaster struck early for the undefeated Buff when they took on the winless Cavaliers from Charlottesville. The Colonials fumbled on the first play from scrimmage and an alert Virginian recovered the ball in the end zone for a touchdown. The Cavaliers countered with another score in the first period and the scoreboard read 12-0 as the second quarter got underway. Richie Gaskell streaked 79 yards on a pass from Ray Fox midway in the second frame. After Gaspari's conversion, the Buff were but five points behind. Gaskell again scored for the Colonials, this time on a 21 yard pass from Bob Sturm. In the fourth quarter Fox tallied on a sneak. All this was not enough as Rives Bailey paced his Cavalier mates to two more touchdowns. The game ended 24-20 with the Colonials threatening to score. Steve Korcheck and Carl Bodolus were outstanding in the line, while Skinny Saffer played fine ball in the backfield. If statistics are any consolation, Virginia was out first downed and out passed.

G.W. 20 • VIRGINIA 24

G.W. 6 • WEST VIRGINIA 27

The rough West Virginia Mountaineers tumbled out of Morgantown for a Griffith Stadium date with the Colonials. Bob Sturm was injured for this tilt and played only a few minutes. Fred Wyant hit Jack Stone for a score early in the contest. The play covered 21 yards. An interception cost the Colonials six more points and the half ended 13-0, West Virginia. The reliable combination of Ray Fox and Richie Gaskell paid off again. This pair collaborated for a 79 yard scoring pass play. The burly Mountaineers were making life miserable for the Colonials as they collected another pair of touchdowns to complete the scoring. The West Virginia team only outgained the Buff on the ground, as the vaunted air arm of the Sherman eleven continued to cause havoc among the opposition. Steve Korcheck played a superb game against the Sugar Bowl-bound Mountaineers.

William & Mary's famed "Iron Men" were pushed all over Williamsburg's Cary Field by a spirited Colonial team. Yet, on a day when the Buff were making more yards on the ground than in previous games, they scored but once. The Buff moved in fresh teams in an effort to wear out the 18 Indians, and moved the ball on five long drives. Steve Korcheck set up the only G Street tally as he intercepted a W & M pass. A 21 yard pass from Bob Sturm to Richie Gaskell put the ball within yards of the goal. Sturm scored on a short burst. Norb Danz collected 74 yards on bull like rushes, while Bill Weaver, Len Cierniecki, and Joe Boland ran well. Shorty Herman and Charlie Sumner, a thorn in the Colonial side all afternoon, scored for the Indians.

G.W. 7 • WILLIAM & MARY 12

G.W. 25 • WASHINGTON & LEE 7

The Colonials resumed their winning ways with a convincing win over the W & L Generals. Bill Weaver scored twice for the Buff on short runs, while Norb Danz bulled for 97 yards and played a major role in three touchdown marches. The Generals had a 7-6 lead late in the third period and appeared set to upset the heavily favored visitors from Washington. The first score came on a fancy pass from Bob Sturm to Richie Gaskell who lateraled to Skinny Saffer. Moments later, Weaver scored. The Colonials showed that they could keep the ball for long marches. In the fourth quarter the Buff took charge with Ray Fox passing to George Danchu for a six pointer after a Weaver interception. Saffer chalked up six points. Bob Sturgill scored for the home team in the third period. For the second straight week, the Colonials exceeded 250 yards on the ground. The offense had finally jelled. The Buff could throw for yardage, and now showed they could run as well.

A fired up Colonial team had the National Champions, Maryland, groggy for a half. Brilliant defensive work by Lou Donofrio, Steve Korcheck, and the entire Buff team held the Terps to a mere one point lead at half time. The College Parkers drew first blood when Ralph Felton scored. The Buff stormed back and on a pitch out play Bill Weaver passed to Richie Gaskell for six points. In the second half quantity told as Bernie Faloney guided his team to two touchdowns that put the game beyond the reach of a highly spirited Colonial crew. The Marylanders added another score in the fading minutes of the contest. It was defense that thrilled the Buff fans. George Dancu made tackle after tackle, Donofrio intercepted two passes. The first steal set up the Colonial score. It was ironic that the Sherman men lost to Maryland by the identical score that they bowed to West Virginia. The Homecoming crowd at Griffith Stadium went home proud of the Colonials.

G.W. 6 • MARYLAND 27

G.W. 33 • DAVIDSON 0

With two substitute fullbacks leading the way the Colonials routed Davidson College and in the process handed the hosts their eighth straight loss against no wins. For the G Streeters it was their fourth victory in eight attempts.

Joe Boland, number two fullback, slammed his way for 117 yards and four tallies through the wide holes opened in the Davidson line by guards Bodolus and Neal and tackles Prach and Bosmans.

Nat Naddeo, not to be outdone, rumbled for 81 yards, the last forty coming on a touchdown run through the host team's befuddled defense. Naddeo's performance was all the more satisfying in that he only played in the final quarter.

In this game GW once again showed that they could move on the ground as well as in the air. They came out with a total of 411 yards total offense, 327 of them on the ground.

In the season's finale 5600 stalwart fans saw GW completely overrun a letdown University of Richmond club. In taking this 35-7 contest the Buffmen ended their second season in a row with a record of better than .500.

Highlighting the contest were touchdown jaunts by Joe Boland, Len Ciemniecki, Bill Weaver, Dutch Danz, and Lou Donofrio. Richmond's only marker came on the electrifying 64 yard pass play from quarterback Bill Bauder to speedy halfback Ed Elliot. With the exception of this thrust the Spiders were never in the game.

The only sad part about the tilt was the fact that seven of the Buff starters were playing their last game for alma mater.

WILLIAM REINHART
Head Basketball Coach

Boasting one of the nation's top ten teams, GW put forth the finest squad in its long basketball history. This year's team, coached by Bill Reinhart, rolled up a 20-2 regular season record, the best ever achieved by a Colonial five and they stood a good chance of improving their record in the Southern Conference Tournament and possibly the NCAA Tournament. The Number 7 Associated Press Poll ranking was also the highest ever accorded a GW basketball team. For the first time in their Southern Conference history the Buff and Blue went undefeated in conference play, running up a 10-0 record. Going into the championship tournament they were odds-on favorites to cop the crown, their first since 1943. In addition Coach Reinhart's proteges showed the ACC that they belonged with the best when it came to Southern basketball powerhouses. The Buff beat 6 out of the 7 ACC representatives they faced with only a loss to perennially powerful North Carolina State to mar their victory skein in the rival conference. Their victims included Duke, Wake Forest, and Virginia. The Buff also regained the Metropolitan Big Three championship.

As was the case last season, Joe Holup, 6'6" center, was once again a tower of strength. Joe received Honorable Mention for All-American on both the Associated Press and the United Press teams. Colonial fans amazed at his improvement in a single season cannot wait to see Joe as a Junior and Senior. The Swoyersville, Pa. giant was also a first team choice for the All-Southern Conference team.

But this year's team was just what the word says. Lending their scoring abilities were Corky Devlin, first team All-Southern Conference, and Elliot Karver, second team All-Southern Conference. Helping Joe off the boards were brother John, a second team All-Southern Conference, Karver, and George Klein. Klein and Karver combined their talents to give the team playmaking and defense. GW's zone defense was nearly unstoppable. However, the first five were ably assisted by such seasoned veterans Ed Catino, Joe Petcavich, Buz Ciriello and Frank Morrison.

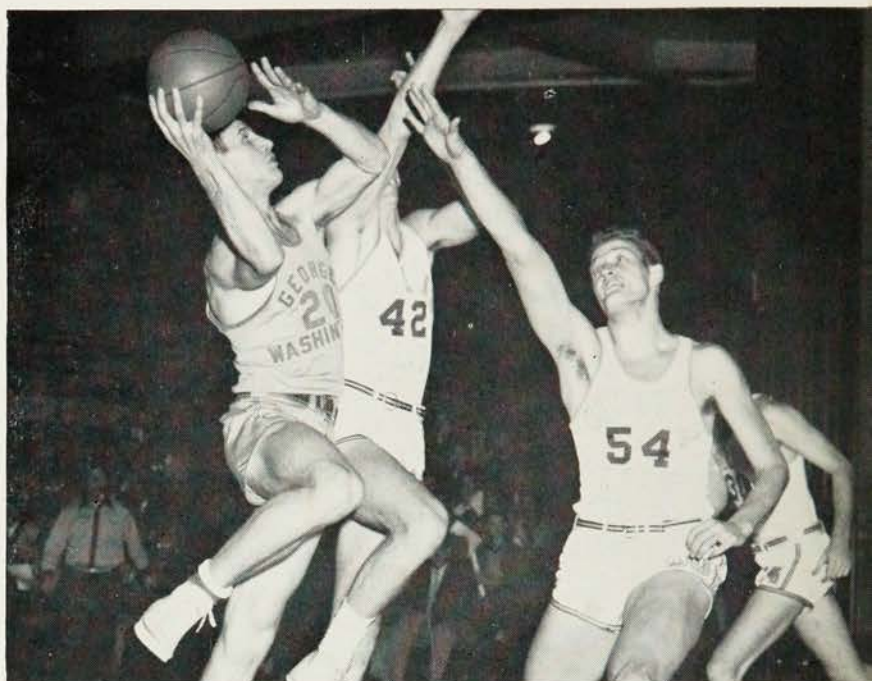

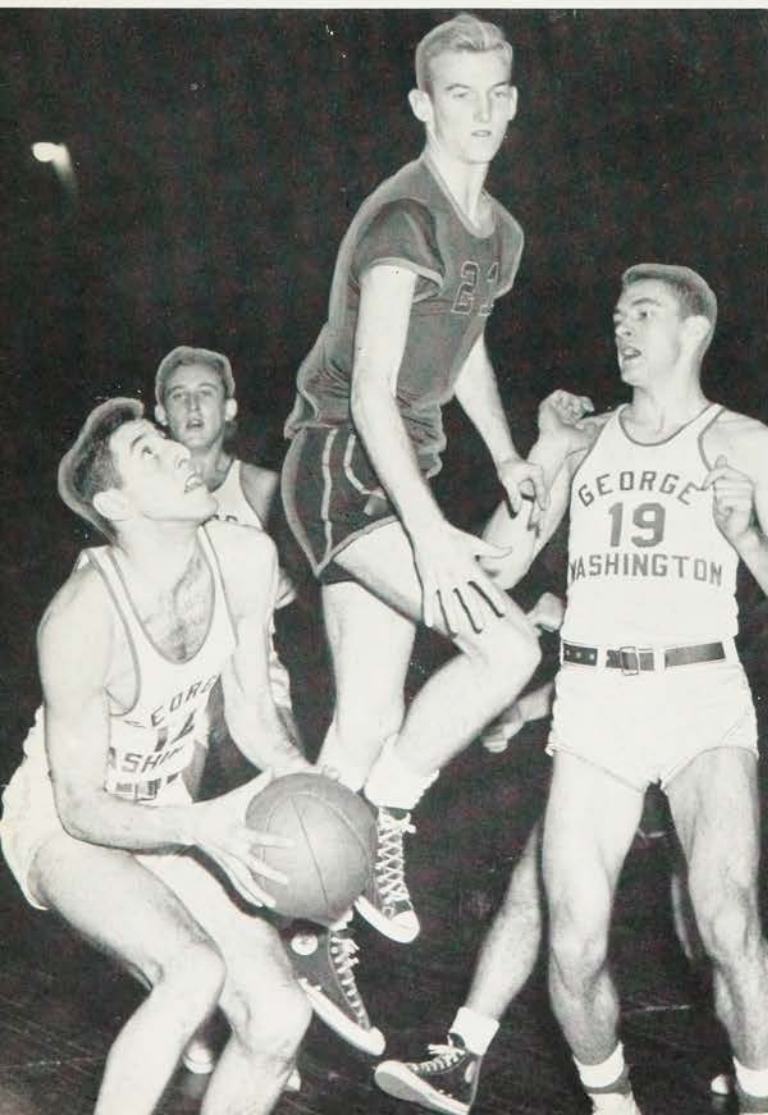

With only Karver and John Holup graduating the G. Street aggregation promises to field a fine team for the next few years.

Besides ending the season with a fine 20-6 record, the Buff also won the Northern division championship of the Southern Conference and were the winners of the mythical area "Big Three" championship, beating Georgetown and Maryland twice and in return losing only to Maryland.

The Colonials had perhaps the best rounded team in the Southern Conference sporting a fine pitching staff and a powerful batting attack. Heading the mound staff were starter Bob Fredericks and George Sengstack and reliefer Jerry Marvel. Steve Korcheck, Dom DeMonge, and Jim Hill led the hitters.

After placing fifth at the Nationals at Kings Point, N.Y. last June, the sailing team returned for another year of sailing honors. At the Navy Fall Invitational G.W. came in second beating MIT, the nation's third top team. Then came a trip to Chicago at Thanksgiving where G.W. and Harvard were the only eastern teams competing in the Mark Timme Angston Memorial Regatta . . . G.W. placing first and Harvard, the nation's top team, placing second. The Annual Frostbite Regatta was held in December on the Potomac with Navy and Georgetown edging G.W. to a third and Harvard placing fourth. The team took time out for cold winter weather and again in the spring brought more honors to the University.

This year's Men's Rifle Team upheld the high standards set by the marksmen of previous years. The team made a good showing in competition with the best schools along the East Coast and in the various District Area Championships.

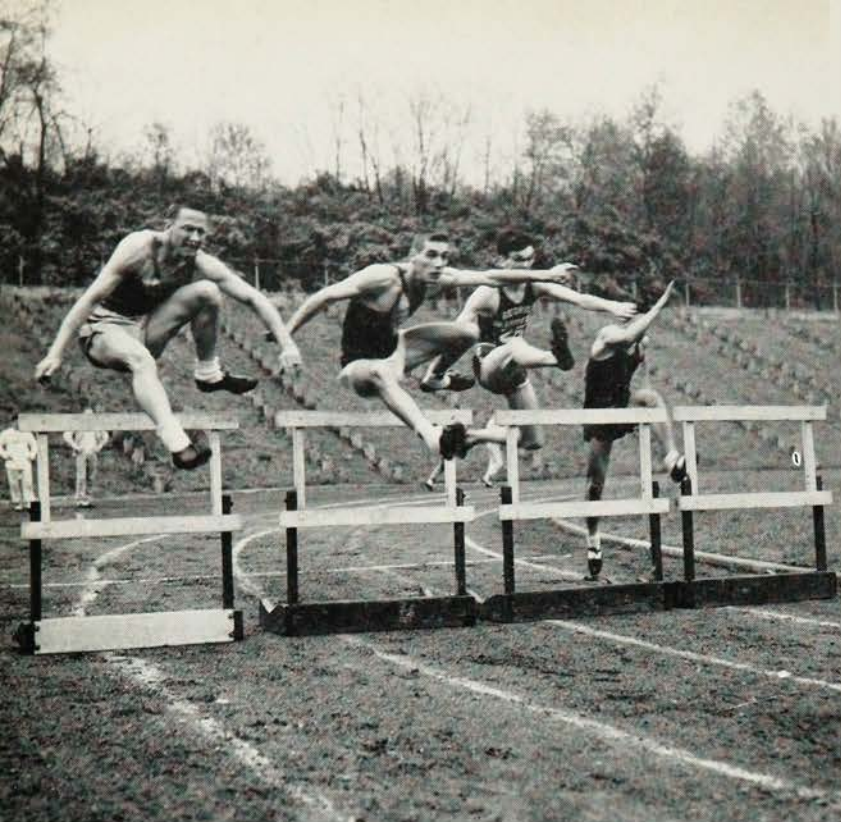

As always, George Washington was well represented in the National Championships. Throughout the years the Colonials have compiled a fine National rating, including several years in which they ranked first in the country.

Four competitive meets were provided for the small squad of enthusiastic thinclads. Although inadequate practice conditions and insufficient training time were two factors behind the poor showing in these meets, the main defect lay in the poor depth that the team had.

Lenny Cierniecki, high scorer; Phil DeTurk, and Jay Quinn were the only varsity men to win a letter. Other regular participants were Art Kirsch, Dick Phillips, Buddy Shuman, Cam Lowe, Jack Adams, John Posta, Bob Sturm, and Steve Levy.

In the opening meet at Lexington, Virginia, the Buffmen finished third with 42 points, behind Lynchburg, with 61, and W. & L., with 47. Cierniecki contributed 13 of these points.

Phil DeTurk flies high into the air over the cross bar in practice.

After this initial effort, the squad finished a poor fifth in the six team CU Invitational Meet. DeTurk had six of GW's 12 points.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

The George Washington intramural sports department is headed by Assistant Baseball Coach Vincent DeAngelis. Vinnie, who assumed this new position in February of 1953, has done a very capable job in keeping the intramural program functioning in its fine manner. Assisting Vinnie in carrying out the program have been Robert Goldstein and Jerry Marvel, both students at the university.

Team trophies are awarded in every sport, and an intramural trophy for the organization with the best overall record is presented every spring along with the other awards. Last year Phi Alpha Fraternity was the winner of the All-University Trophy, while Marvin Rosenblatt was given the award for the outstanding intramural athlete.

The university in carrying out its intramural program tries to provide the students with relaxation and enjoyment, develop group spirit and sportsmanship, and promote better health, both mentally as well as physically.

Heading the SAE attack were John Buckingham, Cecil Charles, Jerry Slaughter, and Ned Harrison.

BASKETBALL

The Intramural basketball title was won this past spring by the team representing the university's Air Force ROTC. The flyers earned the right to the championship by squeezing by Phi Alpha with a 59-57 victory. The game was one of the hardest fought contests ever seen in intramural competition. Leading the way for the winners were Joe Boland, Lou Donofrio, Bob Fredericks, George Dancu, and Bill Green. In the battle for third place Sigma Chi went down to defeat at the hands of an underdog Alphan squad led by footballer John Prach.

SOFTBALL

With almost all of last year's softball schedule completed it appears that four teams will certainly make the playoffs. They are Welling Hall, AFROTC, Sigma Chi, and Phi Alpha. When school ended last spring the schedule wasn't complete and the winner will be decided early this spring before this year's softball starts.

VOLLEYBALL

Phi Alpha outfought a stout Welling Hall squad to bring home their second major intramural sports championship, and thus were the only fraternity to accomplish this feat. The Phi Alphs were sparked to victory by Buddy Wolfe, Syl Goldin, Bob Goldstein, and George Liss.

TRACK

Despite the fact that they had only one man among the individual winners, Phi Alpha won the intramural track meet held at Western High School mainly on the strength of their relay teams. Out of their total of 45 points, 6 more than second place Sigma Chi, 30 came as a result of victories in the mile and 880-yard relays and a second and fourth in the medley sprint relay. Richie Gaskell of Sigma Chi was the high point man for the meet with firsts in the 50 and 220 yard dashes. In addition he was second man on Sigma Chi's 880-yard relay team. SAE took third place with 33 points.

Marv Rosenblatt breezes home first in the 440 yard dash in mural track meet.

And they're off to a perfect start in the 50 yard dash.

Precision swimming is taught through Oquassa.

George Washington University women are fortunate in the diversity of sports in which they can participate. Archery and tennis are ever popular, as is golf. Special buses take the students to Hains Point where instruction is given in these courses. Valuable not only during the college years, but throughout life, are sports such as bowling, swimming and rifle. Bowling classes are held at the Y.M.C.A. on G Street, not so very far from school, and much pleasure is derived from the swimming classes held at the Y.W.C.A. Synchronized swimming is taught in Oquassa, as well as all phases of water ballet. Basketball and badminton classes are held during the winter months with games played between the classes of the University and outside schools. Square and modern dance are offered also, with square dances being given several times during the school year.

B FLIGHT

Under the Air Force guidance and administration of Colonel Carl Swyter, Professor of Air Science and Tactics, the Cadets have been active in University affairs other than the military. They have been movers in making successful the Blood Donation Drive, the Korean Clothing campaign, and aided this year in assisting the new students at the University as part of the orientation program. While many of the activities of the A.F.R.O.T.C. may escape the notice of the greater part of the student body, the demonstration of precision march and drill by the crack drill squad of the Pershing Rifle group as part of the halftime activities at the Homecoming Football Game served to bring the activities of the group into sharper focus in the minds of the entire student body. In addition to assuming university obligations, the A.F.R.O.T.C. has engaged in a number of civic activities, including the Cherry Blossom festivities in which it won the competition in 1953, the Inaugural Parade and numerous other parades and celebrations.

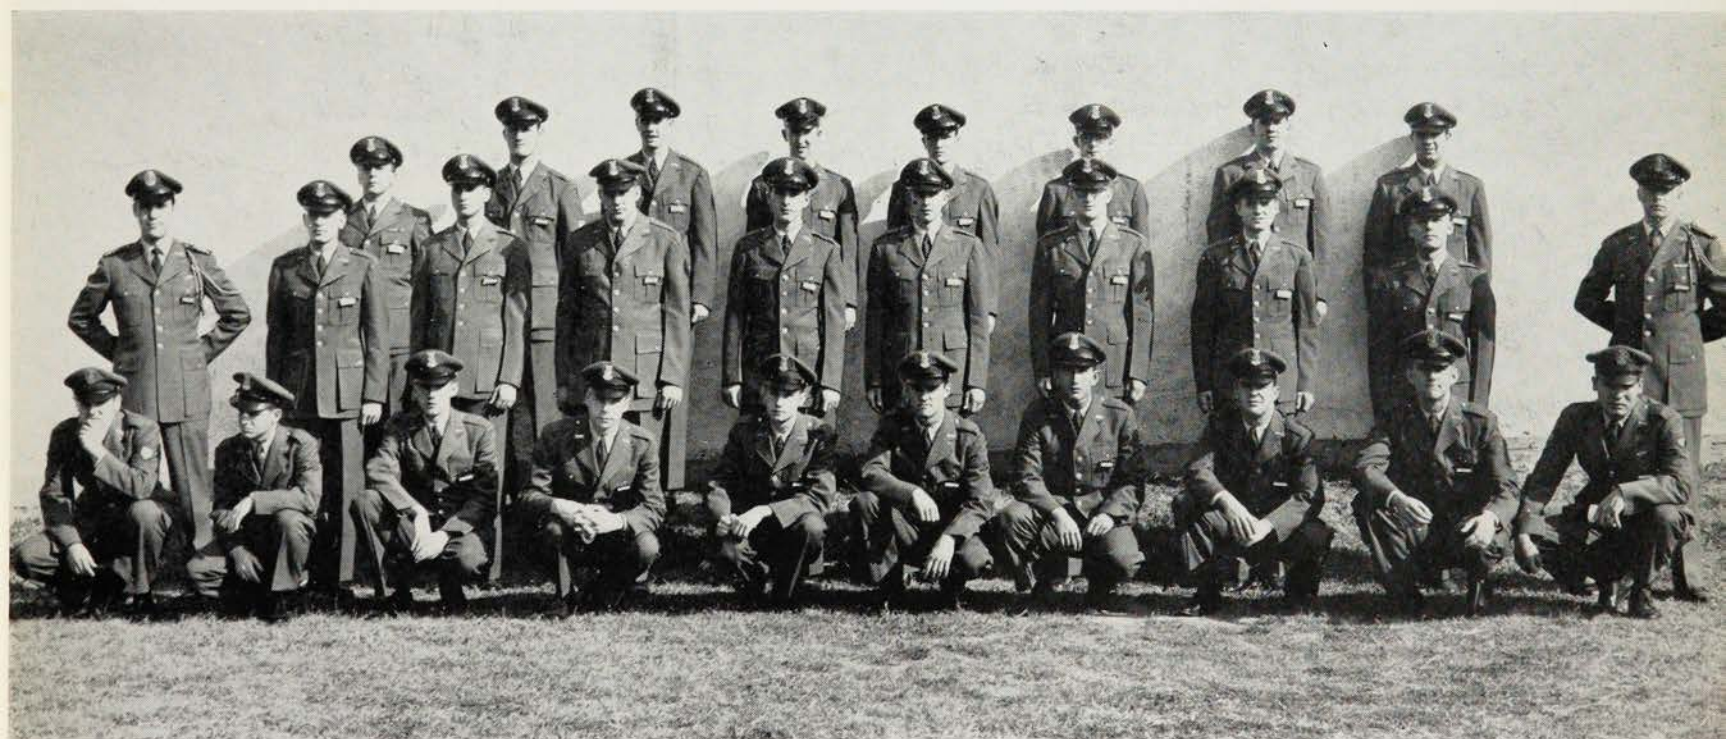

The Organization of the various flights of the Cadets under the Division of Air Science of the University was headed in the fall by Cadet Paul B. Stroup, who was appointed Lieutenant Colonel in the organization. The flights are set up on a similar manner to an active Air Force unit in order to give the cadets the vital "know-how" and understanding of administration and operations in order that they may better serve as responsible officers of the United States Air Force.

In addition to the classroom work and drill periods available at the University, selected students receive instruction in the Link Trainer and make field trips to local Air Force bases and engage in flight training to familiarize themselves with the actual operation of the aircraft. Students of the advanced course, in addition, spend part of a summer training at one of the regular Air Force bases receiving vital instruction and experience in Air Force administration and operation.

Among the extracurricular military groups associated with the Division of Air Science at the University are the Pershing Rifles, established here in March of 1953 as Company S of the 5th Regiment, and led by Cadet Captain H. Graham King Jr. with Lt. Calvin L. Frederich, USAF, as advisor. Pershing Rifles is a national military society for A.F.R.O.T.C. Cadets which maintains expert drill teams and provides social functions for its members. Pershing Rifles was founded at Nebraska University by General George Pershing, who was then a Second Lieutenant, and originally bore the name of "Varsity Rifles". The present name was adopted a year later in recognition of the initiative and co-operation of Lt. Pershing. Today there are 79 active companies, 8

Regimental Headquarters, and over 3,500 members. In addition to participation in university and civic affairs members of the group have visited a number of other units to widen their scope of training.

The Arnold Air Society, a national honorary for advanced A.F.R.O.T.C. Cadets emphasizing leadership and ability, was activated at George Washington in the fall of 1952. Furthering the mission of the organization and serving as a hub of cadet activities, the squadron also sponsors numerous social functions. The George Washington squadron is named in honor of General Carl Spaatz. Major Gregory D. Picone, USAF, is the advisor.

In addition to these two groups the Cadets may participate in the activities of the Rifle Team, sponsored first in 1951, which includes in each year's activities a number of intramural and interschool meets as well as valuable marksmanship training. Membership in the Honor Flight crack drill team is also available for those outstanding Cadets who can qualify.

Still relatively young and one of the smallest units of its type, the Division of Air Science A.F.R.O.T.C. has shown outstanding progress and accomplishment in integrating its program into that of the University in order to provide well trained, qualified officers ready to serve and become leaders in the United States Air Force.

The newly-enlarged Student Council of 1953-54 took office and soon started to work under the leadership of Glen Archer. The primary purpose of the Student Council is to coordinate the various phases of campus activities so that all students will have an opportunity to participate fully in college life.

The first major project sponsored by the Council was the American Folk Festival in the summer. Next came the pre-school Orientation Week, during which Council members, in cooperation with other organizations, helped the new students become adjusted to the University. Other successful projects sponsored by the Student Council included the Homecoming Dance, with music by Ralph Flanagan, the Career Conference, and the Colonial program series, which included the Messiah.

The Council can well be proud of its outstanding contribution to the University during the year 1953-1954.

"TO SPONSOR AN ACTIVE INTEREST IN RECREATION"

The Women's Recreation Association creates an interest in women's athletics by providing a varied program of athletic activities that has made the campus sports-conscious and has helped to promote leadership. This is in line with the purpose of the Association, which is to create and to sponsor an active interest in recreational participation at the University, to provide a varied program of recreational activities by which the desires and interests of the largest number of women students may be realized, to make the campus aware of the best standards of recreation, and to promote recreational leadership.

A reception is given every year to give new students an opportunity to meet religious advisors and members of the various religious clubs. The Religious Council's biggest undertaking is Religion-in-Life Week, when students are given the opportunity to hear outstanding speakers.

Junior Panhellenic Council is the pledge version of the Panhellenic Council, and consists of a delegate from each sorority pledge class. The vice-president of Panhellenic is the advisor to Junior Panhel. The purpose of Junior Panhel is to maintain a high standard for fraternity life and interfraternity relations within the University, to further good scholarship among the pledges, and to cooperate with the Panhellenic Council in maintaining social standards. The main project of the Junior Panhellenic Council is organizing the Goat Show.

The Intersorority Athletic Board is composed of a delegate from each sorority. The purpose is to further intersorority cooperation in women's sports. Sororities compete in tournaments throughout the school year. A cup is awarded for each tournament, and a large rotating cup goes to the sorority which wins or places in the most tournaments during the year.

A PLEDGE PIN, A RITUAL, A SMOKER

The Interfraternity Pledge Council is made up of an IFPC delegate elected from the pledge class of each fraternity. The purpose of the Council is to train the pledges to work as a group for the betterment of the fraternity system and to promote friendship and cooperation among campus fraternities by an integrated social program. This year the Council's activities included a smoker in December and a "help day."

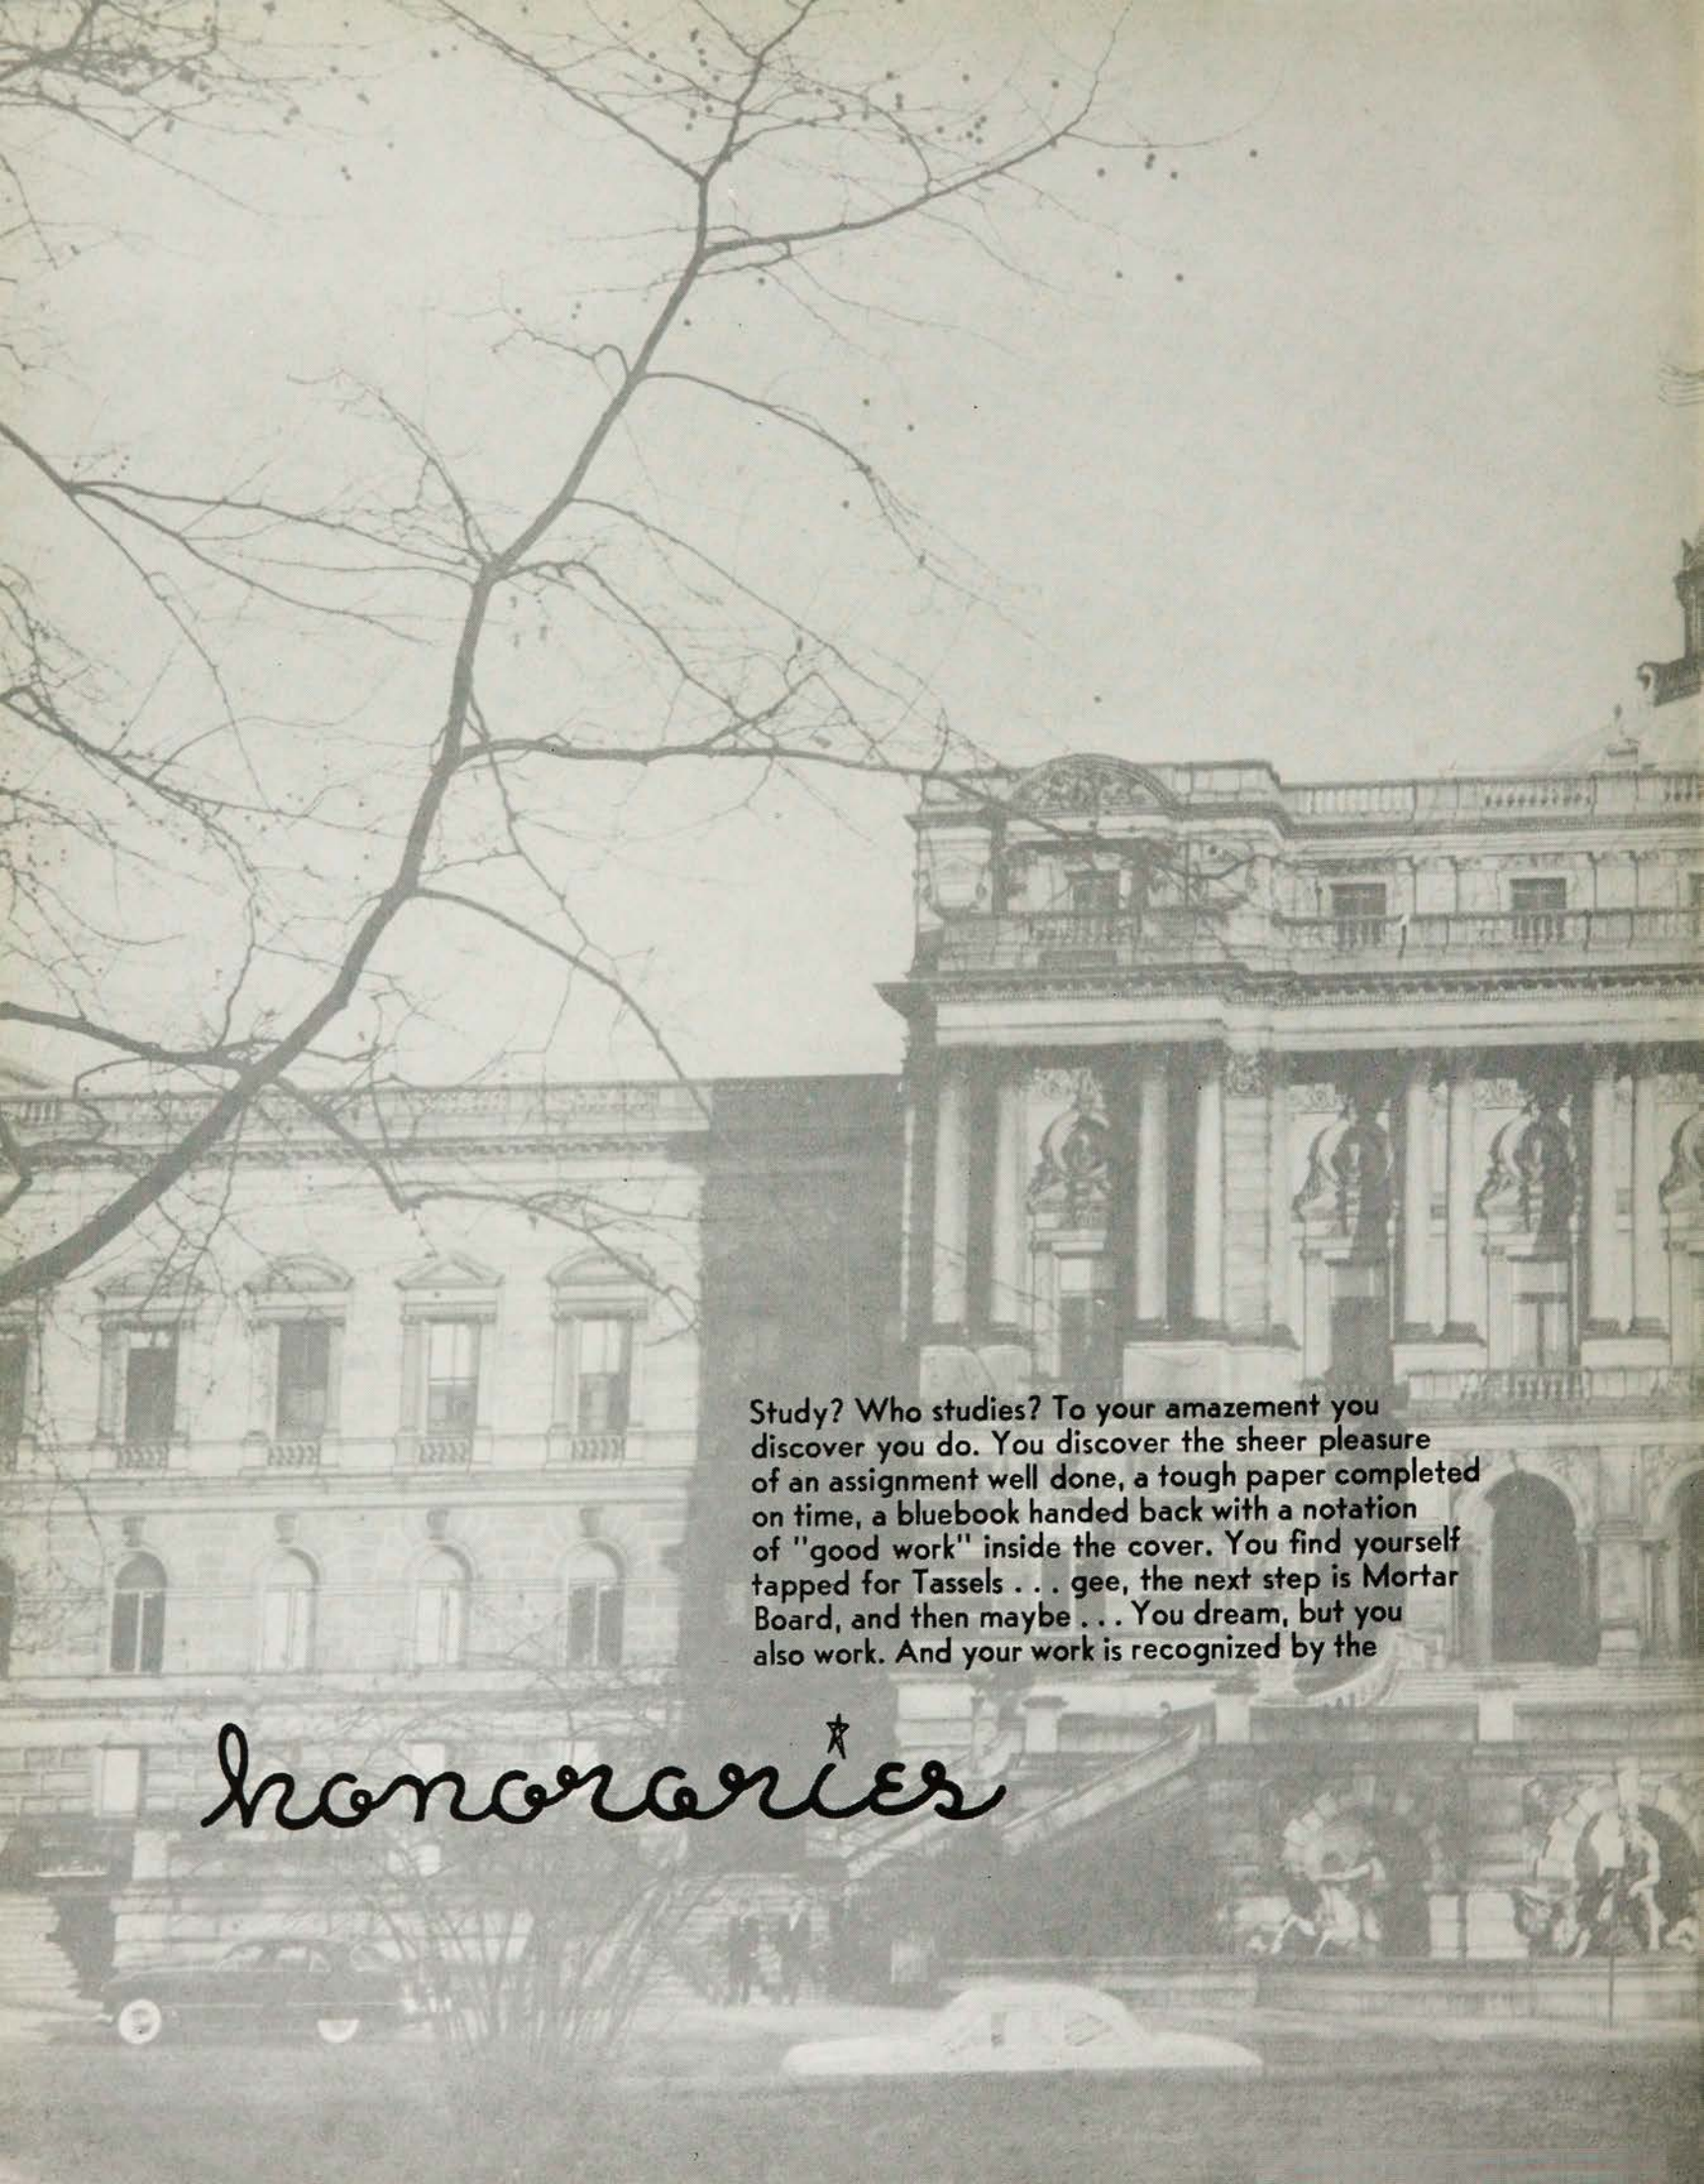

The sports chairman of each fraternity is a delegate to the Interfraternity Athletic Council. It is the Council's job to set up the interfraternity athletic events and to further competitive sports among the fraternities. The Council sponsors and regulates all interfraternity athletic tournaments. A cup is awarded to the winner of each tournament, and a large cup is awarded in the spring to the fraternity which has accumulated the most points during the year.

Study? Who studies? To your amazement you discover you do. You discover the sheer pleasure of an assignment well done, a tough paper completed on time, a bluebook handed back with a notation of "good work" inside the cover. You find yourself tapped for Tassels . . . gee, the next step is Mortar Board, and then maybe . . . You dream, but you also work. And your work is recognized by the

SCHOLARSHIP, LEADERSHIP IN WHITE DINNER JACKETS

Mortar Board is the national honorary for senior women. Members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service to the University. New members are tapped at the May Day Assembly. Mortar Boards were kept quite busy during Orientation Week. They ushered at the freshman orientation assemblies, staffed an information booth both days of registration, presented a skit on classroom types at the Big Sisters Coffee Hour, and tapped the new members of Tassels at the Big Sis Tips and Tea With Topnotchers. Mortar Board sponsors Tassels, honorary for sophomore women. Mortar Board's later projects include a panel discussion, "Good Grades the Easy Way," in conjunction with ODK, a Silver Study, and the traditional Mortar Board Smarty Party in December, to which all junior and senior women with a 3.0 average or above are invited.

ACTIVITIES, SCHOLARSHIP, ACTIVITIES

Members of Omicron Delta Kappa are tapped at the Homecoming Dance and the Interfraternity Sing. The members of this national honorary are men who are outstanding leaders in the fields of scholarship, social and religious activities, athletics, publications, music, debate, and dramatics. Members of ODK must also be in the upper one-third of their class. ODK is active in University projects, taking an integral part in the planning of Freshman Orientation Week and the program on how to study. ODK is also represented on the Student Life Committee. Twice each year, Dr. Marvin and other notable alumni join the active members of ODK for a banquet. ODK truly represents all phases of college life.

Delphi is the honorary for outstanding sorority women. Delphi's purpose is to promote intersorority spirit and increase social life among the women's Greek organizations. At the Panhellenic Assembly, Delphis registered girls for rush. At the first Panhellenic Post Office, Delphis answered the rushees' questions. Delphi presented a fashion show at the Big Sis Tips and Tea with Topnotchers. Two girls from each sorority showed the freshman women appropriate clothes to wear to different campus functions. After pledging, Delphi held its traditional Workshop for all sorority pledges. Delphis acted as hostesses at the Student Union Halloween Dance. Throughout the year, Delphi sponsored intersorority exchanges, so that the members of the different sororities would get to know each other better.

Gate and Key is the honorary for fraternity men who have made an outstanding contribution to their own fraternity and to the Greek world in general. New members are nominated by their own fraternities and elected by Gate and Key. Tapping of new members takes place at the Homecoming Dance in the fall and the IFC Prom in the Spring. This year the "Order of the Lacy Garter" was awarded at the Interfraternity Quartet Sing.

Gate and Key was founded at the George Washington University and now has a chapter at Maryland University. The purpose of Gate and Key is to maintain the ideals of fraternity life and to work for the betterment of the fraternity system.

MEET THAT DEADLINE! TOTE THAT TYPEWRITER!

Pi Delta Epsilon is the journalism honorary at G. W. and is the oldest collegiate journalism fraternity in the country. Members are selected for their contributions to campus publications, and include students on the staffs of the Cherry Tree, the Hatchet and the Mecheleciv. Pi Delta Epsilon is educational in that it strives to teach the ethics, technique and mechanics of journalism. The purpose of Pi Delta Epsilon is to elevate the cause of journalism, to foster the mutual welfare of student publications, to develop the truest fraternal spirit among its members, to encourage loyalty to their Alma Mater and to reward the journalists working on the student publications for their efforts, services and accomplishments by admission to its membership.

A NEEDLE, A COOK BOOK, AND A 3.0 AVERAGE

Alpha Pi Epsilon is the home economics honorary. To be elected to membership, a girl must be a home economics major who has a 2.5 overall average and a 3.0 average in home economics. Alpha Pi Epsilon has both a college chapter and an alumni chapter. Meetings are highlighted by informative talks on various aspects of the field. In January the organization celebrated its twenty-second birthday. Miss Lydia Lynd of the Extension Service of the Department of Agriculture spoke at the Founder's Day Banquet. Many programs are given by Alpha Pi Epsilon in conjunction with the Home Economics Club.

SOPHOMORES OF SERVICE AND SCHOLARSHIP

Tassels is a service organization sponsored by Mortar Board for sophomore women who have demonstrated high scholastic and leadership ability in their freshman year. The new members of Tassels were tapped by Mortar Board at the Tips and Tea for Top-notchers. For the service project, Tassels has given coffee hours honoring different departments of the University, so that students could get to know their professors.

Pi Lambda Theta, national education honorary for women, makes its contribution to the University by fostering professional spirit and maintaining the highest standards of scholarship and professional preparation in the field of education. Election to this honorary is attained by those women who have a 3.0 overall average and have 18 hours in the field of education. Social activities include teas and dinners highlighted by guest speakers.

DEDICATED TO GRADUATE WOMEN

Phi Delta Gamma is an honorary for women taking graduate work at the University. The organization works to further the status of women socially and professionally and to raise the standards of graduate study. Phi Delta Gamma has drawn members from many fields and professions. Fall rush teas bring in new members annually from the graduate and faculty women of the University.

Alpha Theta Nu is an honorary fraternity for students who hold, or have held, scholarships from the University. The fraternity also serves as a service organization which may be called upon for various odd jobs around the University. Routine service projects may include ushering at Lisner events, acting as hosts to high school students, and helping at booths during registration.

A PSYCH MAJOR, A 3.5 AND PERSONAL AID

Psi Chi is an honorary and professional fraternity for psychology students. A psychology major must have a 3.5 or better average in order to be eligible for membership. The purpose of Psi Chi is to stimulate interest in psychology and to increase participation in research in the field. The organization gives financial and personal assistance to actively aid those carrying out psychological projects. The organization's regular activities include business meetings, lectures and social events.

Alpha Lambda Delta is the national freshmen women's honorary at the George Washington University. A 3.5 overall average is required for membership in this honorary. Alpha Lambda Delta, together with Phi Eta Sigma and Alpha Theta Nu, gave a reception for all new scholarship holders during Orientation Week. Senior Certificates are presented to those senior women who have maintained a 3.5 average for 4 years. Book awards are given to the women with the highest averages.

THE COLUMBIAN COLLEGE

The Columbian College offers the work of the junior and senior years of the four year college program in the liberal arts and sciences leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science, and also offers studies leading to degrees of Master of Arts and Master of Science in the liberal arts field. The Columbian College was founded in 1821 "for the sole and exclusive purpose of educating youth in English, learned and foreign languages, the liberal arts, sciences and literature," and with full powers to confer all degrees "usually granted and conferred in colleges." In 1930 when the Junior College was established, the name "Columbian College" was bestowed upon the senior college of liberal arts.

THE SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

The School of Engineering, organized in 1884 as the Corcoran Scientific School, was combined with Columbian College in the Department of Arts and Sciences in 1903. In 1905 the engineering courses were placed under an administrative organization known as the Washington College of Engineering and in 1909 the name was changed to the College of Engineering and Mechanic Arts. In 1914 the name became the School of Engineering. Courses leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Civil Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, and Electrical Engineering are accredited by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development, the recognized accrediting body of the engineering profession.

THE ENGINEERS' COUNCIL

The Engineers' Council is the representative body of the societies and fraternities authorized by the School of Engineering. Two members are elected to the Council from the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, American Society of Civil Engineers, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Institute of Radio Engineers, Sigma Tau, and Theta Tau.

The Council plans and arranges the University functions of the School of Engineering. The Council-sponsored Engineers' Mixer featured fellowship, speeches, and entertainment. Usually, the Council arranges a ball in February and a banquet in May. This year, the Council presented the Engineers' Gala, combining the dancing and frivolity of the ball with the dinner and awards features of the banquet.

Annually, the Engineers' Council presents the University with a Christmas tree. The ASCE's dig up the tree. The ASME's erect it. The AIEE's wire in the lights. The IRE's put together a P.A. system so that all who attend the ceremony can hear as well as see what's going on. The members of the societies and fraternities also pool their money for the purchase of toys for underprivileged children in the Washington area.

Xi chapter of Sigma Tau fraternity was founded at the George Washington University on April 18, 1921. The fraternity celebrated its fiftieth anniversary this year, for it was on February 22, 1904, that the fraternity was founded at Lincoln, Nebraska.

Sigma Tau's purpose is to recognize scholastic and professional achievement, and its aim is service to engineering education. Men in the upper third of the junior and senior classes of the Engineering School are selected for membership. This year's project has been a student assistance program. A tutoring service was set up for the use of students desiring help with their studies. In honor of the new members, the fraternity holds a banquet and dance at the time of the fall and spring initiations.

The Mechleciv magazine is published at the George Washington University six times a year, under the direction of the Engineers' Council. The staff, composed of engineering students who compile, edit, and publish the material, can be especially proud that their publication has been accepted by the Engineering College Magazines Association—an organization requiring the highest standards of performance from all its members. Mechleciv is published in order to further interest in the engineering societies and fraternities, to present technical articles written by undergraduate students, and to offer an opportunity for future engineers to acquire the skill of technical writing.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers was founded nationally in 1880, and since that time has grown to number over fifty thousand members. One third of this number are student members of the one hundred thirty-five student branches. The George Washington University chapter is composed of over fifty members who are students in the School of Engineering.

Among the aims of the society are the promotion of the art and science of mechanical engineering, the encouragement of original research, the fostering of engineering education, and the development of practical competence. The engineering student feels that it is important to broaden his interests into fields other than mechanical engineering while he is in school, as well as to learn the essentials of engineering. By means of speakers at the monthly meetings, who are both educational and entertaining, ASME carries out its aims.

JOINT BRANCH OF AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ELECTRIC ENGINEERS AND INSTITUTE OF RADIO ENGINEERS

This year the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers joined forces to become the Joint Branch of AIEE and IRE.

The George Washington University Branch of American Institute of Electrical Engineers was founded in 1932, and is open to all interested students who are enrolled in electrical engineering. The student branch of Institute of Radio Engineers attracts particularly those taking the communications option or those interested in electronics.

The Joint Branch has both scholastic and extra-curricular interests. At the monthly meetings, speakers and motions pictures are presented and outside field trips to such places as radio stations and power plants provide additional education.

Both AIEE and IRE hold contests each year for all interested students. The American Institute of Electrical Engineers contest gives awards for papers and is sponsored nationally. The Institute of Radio Engineers contest is strictly for students of this University.

THE T A T A U

The oldest and largest of its kind in the field of engineering, Theta Tau fraternity was founded on October 15, 1904 in Minneapolis, Minnesota. It is a professional engineering society for college students in all branches of engineering, formed on a basis of fraternal friendship plus professional interest.

Gamma Beta chapter of Theta Tau was founded at George Washington University on March 16, 1935. Each year the fraternity plans many activities beginning with the initiation in October, coinciding with the founding of the fraternity. Banquets, dances, smokers, picnics, and the annual Shrimp Feast on Armistice Day provide activities for the members and often for their wives and friends.

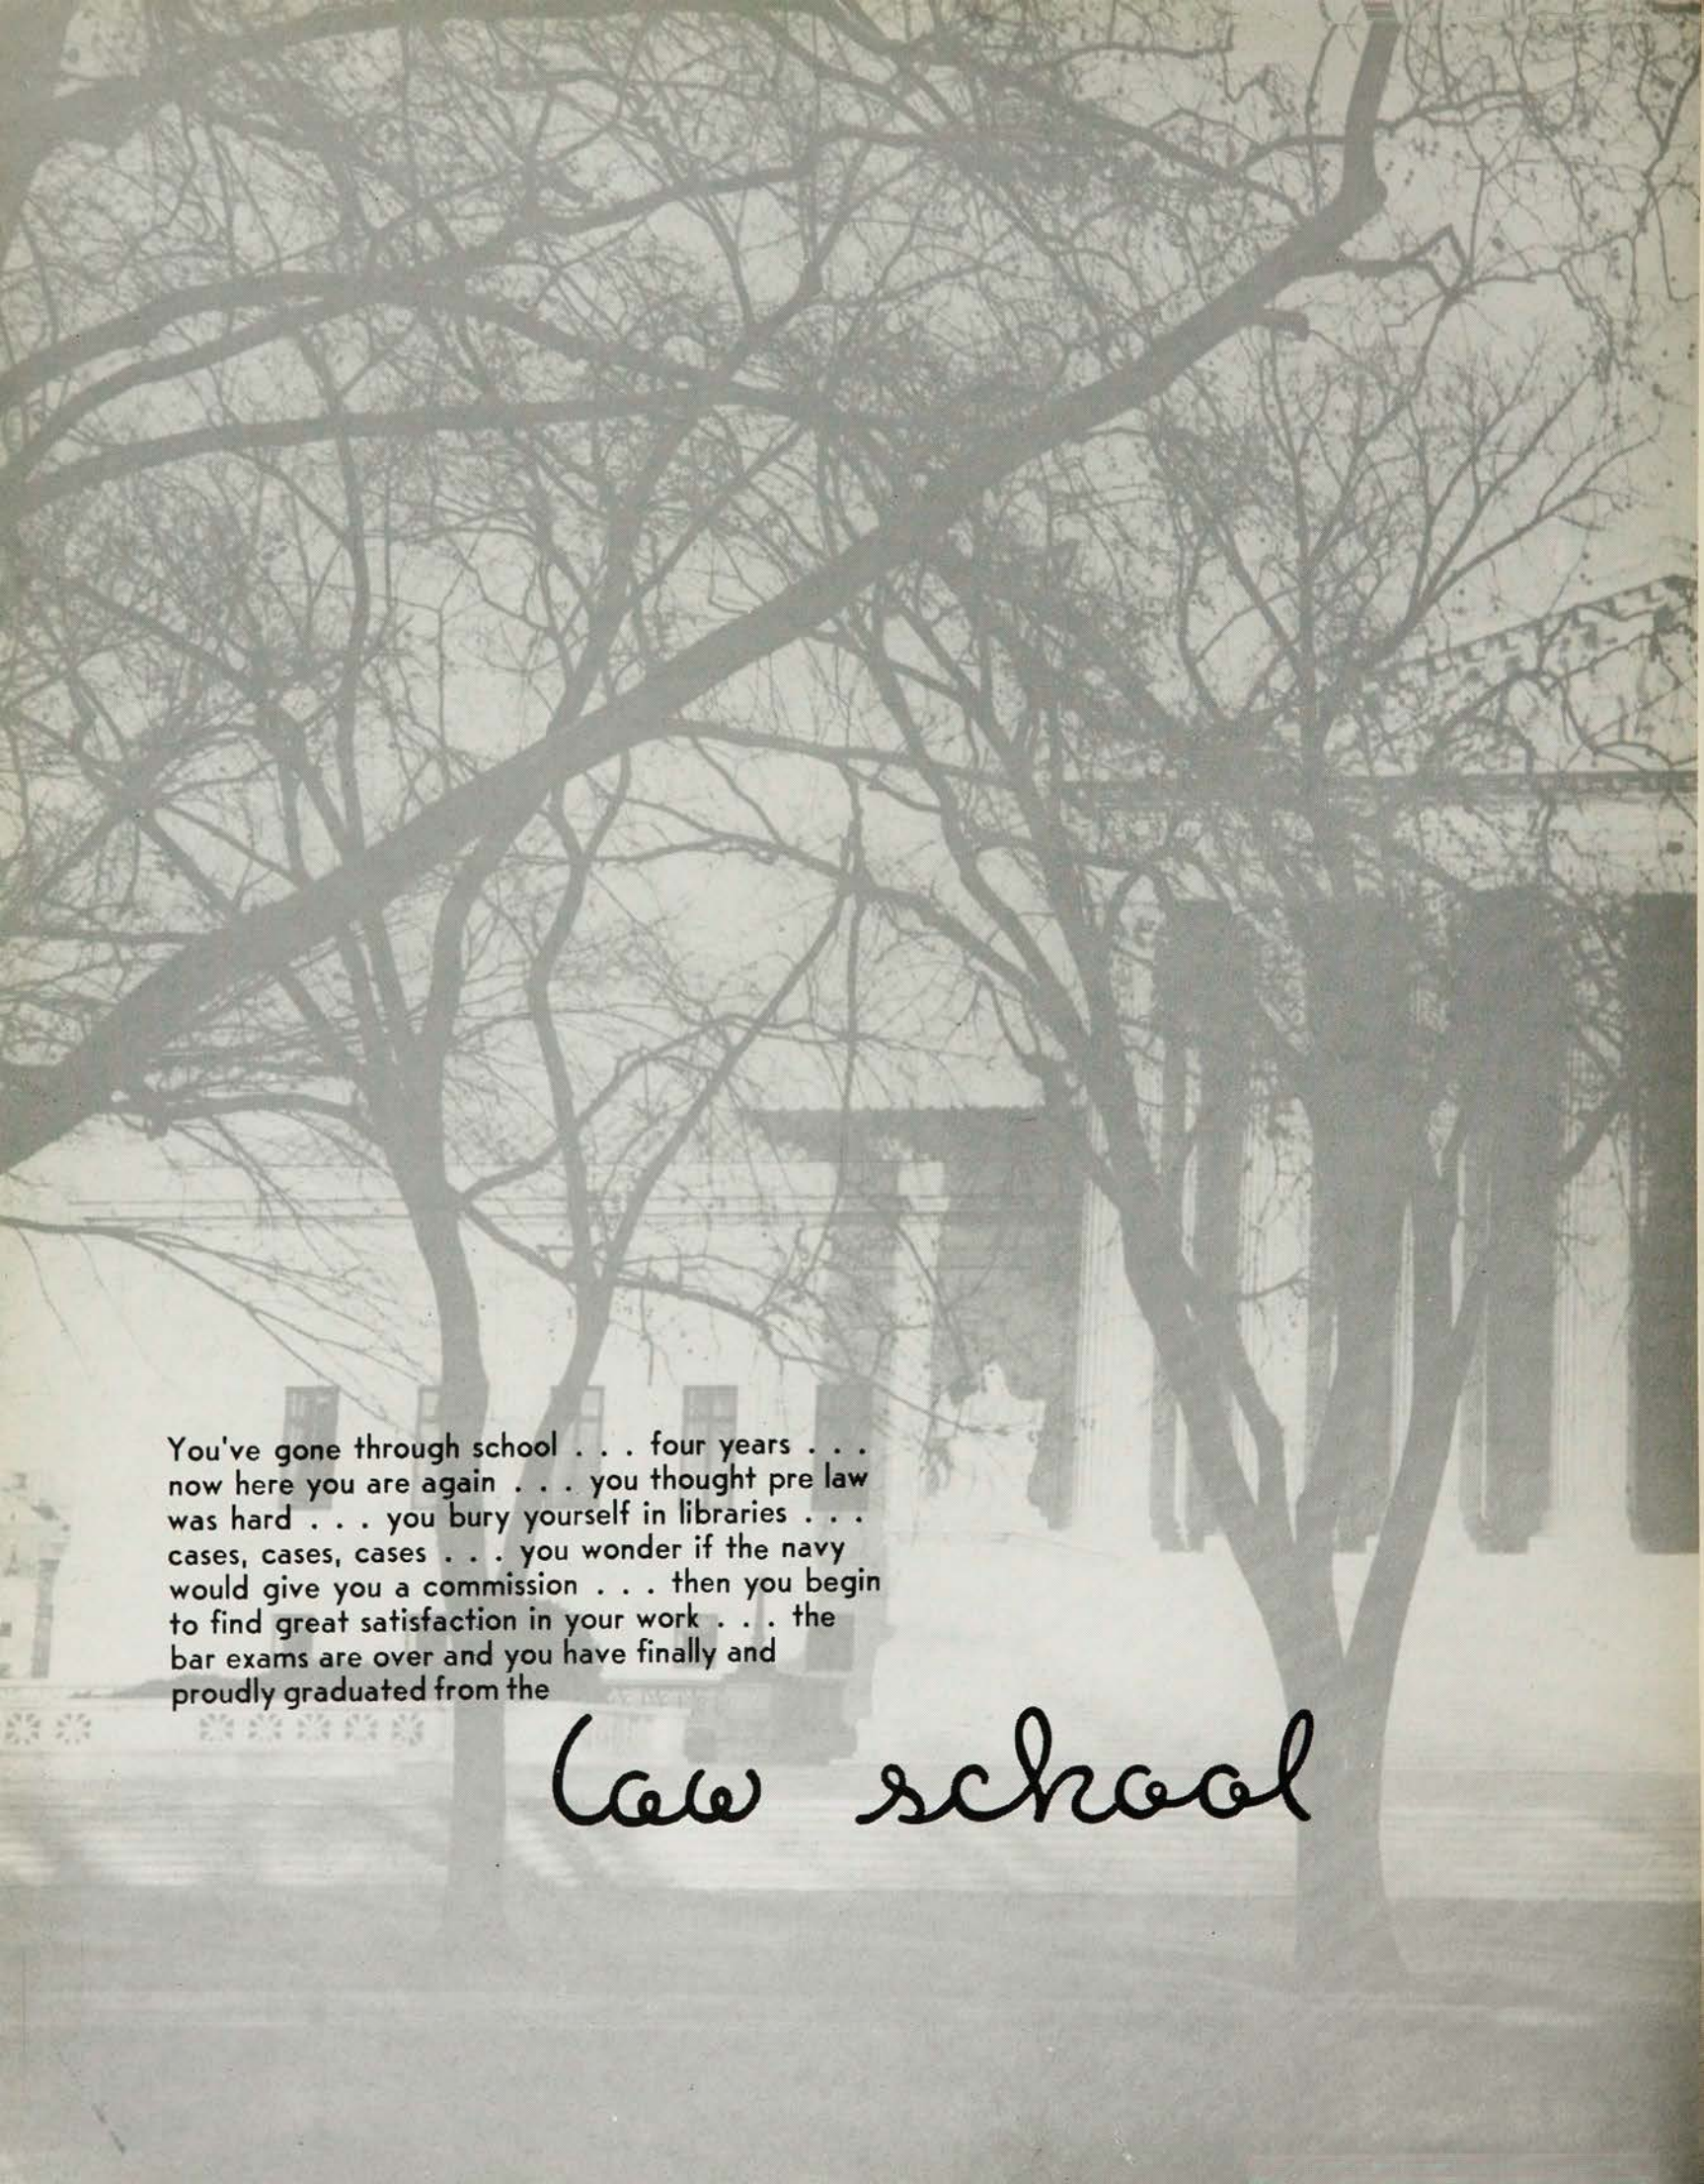

The purpose of the American Society of Civil Engineers is to supplement theoretical knowledge with practical knowledge. Through lectures by men prominent in the profession and through field trips, the members learn to apply the facts they obtain from textbooks. The society was founded in 1852, and was the first National Engineers Society in the United States. The chapter, which is open to all civil engineering students with a 2.0 average, gives an annual award to the student who has contributed the most to the Society.

The George Washington University Law School, now in its 88th year is the oldest law school in the District of Columbia. The school took part as a charter member in 1900 in the organization of the Association of American Law Schools and it has been an active member of the Association since that time. It is approved by the Section of Legal Education and Admissions to the Bar of the American Bar Association. Of special significance is the location of the Law School in the Nation's Capital, the focal point of law in action. The work of the School goes on in this environment, presenting a unique opportunity for observation and study of federal agencies.

DELTA THETA PHI

The Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity was established on September 26, 1913, after duly appointed representatives of three fraternities (Delta Phi Delta, Alpha Kappa Phi, and Theta Lambda Phi) had met in Chicago, Illinois, and adopted a new constitution and ritual under the name of Delta Theta Phi.

Woodrow Wilson Senate of Delta Theta Phi was founded at the George Washington University Law School in 1916. It is one of 93 Student Senates and 40 Alumni Senates which are located in law schools and cities throughout the United States.

The purpose of Delta Theta Phi is the constant furtherance of legal research, the legal profession and justice. Various programs are carried on including Student Senate scholarship competition for the Scholarship Cup which is presented to the Student Senate attaining the highest grade average of all Student Senates.

STUDENT BAR ASSOCIATION

The Student Bar Association, a charter member of the American Law Student Association, includes in its membership every student in the George Washington University Law School. The primary aims of the Student Bar Association are the promotion of professional and social activities among the Law School student body; the recognition and encouragement of scholastic achievements, and the maintenance of the high reputation of the Law School.

At professional meetings held after school hours, representatives of the principal courts in the District of Columbia spoke to the Student Bar Association and guests from the other law schools in the District. On the social side, a summer picnic was held and Fall and Spring dances were held with entertainment skits by the Law School faculty and students.

The Board of Governors of the Student Bar Association is elected by the Law School students in April to serve for one year. In addition to the usual officers there are three representatives on the Board for both the day school and the night school. There is also a representative on the Board from Amicus Curiae, the Case Club, the Legal Aid Society, the American Law Student Association, and the Student Council of the University.

C A S E C L U B

The Van Vleck Case Club is an extra-curricular organization whose purpose is to give law students an opportunity to prepare written briefs and present oral argument on actual appellate cases before a simulated modern appellate court. Cases are decided upon style and presentation of the arguments in the written briefs, clearness and manner of presentation of the oral arguments, ability to respond to searching questions by the court, and persuasiveness of the points of law presented. The Competition consists of preliminaries, semi-finals, and finals.

In addition to the intra-law school activities, the Case Club each year selects a team to represent the George Washington University Law School in the Inter-Law School Moot Court Competition sponsored by the New York Bar Association. Regional winners are selected throughout the country and the finals are held in New York City before a distinguished bench of noted judges.

The "Review" is edited by a faculty Editor-in-Chief, a faculty Board of Associate Editors, a Board of Departmental Advisory Editors, and a Board of Student Editors. The student editors are chosen each year on the basis of scholarship.

The George Washington University Law School newspaper, nearing its third year of publication, is designed to supplement the legal education of its readers. Published under the auspices of the Student Bar Association, and acting in co-operation with the Alumni Association, Amicus Curiae prints articles of special interest to law students. Of recent importance has been the policy of Amicus Curiae to publicize the proposed Law Center and to assist in the raising of funds for this project. With a staff consisting entirely of law students, Amicus Curiae is published four times each semester and is distributed to all the law students. One issue of the publication each academic year is sponsored by the George Washington Law Association and is sent to all alumni of the Law School.

Nu Beta Epsilon, a national law fraternity with chapters at law schools from coast-to-coast, was founded 35 years ago. Today it counts among its members distinguished jurists, lawyers, and political leaders.

Nu Beta Epsilon is devoted to the principle of preparing the law student for future practice of law by acquainting him with the standard of ethics and public service that is expected of the lawyer. In the Gamma Chapter at George Washington University the program comprises a series of professional meetings at which jurists, lawyers, public servants, and educators speak to the members and guests on subjects of interest to law students. Gamma Chapter has been particularly fortunate because here, in the nation's capital, a great number of well-known persons have generously given their time for the benefit of the organization. In addition to the professional-type meeting the program consists of social functions during the year including dances and summer picnics.

Phi Delta Delta is a women's legal fraternity composed of members chosen on the basis of scholarship and character. The aim of the fraternity is the promotion of a closer understanding between women in the Law School and those actively engaged in the profession. The George Washington University chapter of Phi Delta Delta, founded in 1918, is now supplemented by chapters at American University, Columbus, National University, Georgetown University, and a local alumnae chapter.

Marshall Inn of Phi Delta Phi, international legal fraternity was installed on the campus of the George Washington University in 1884. It was the eighth chapter to be granted a charter by the parent group which was founded at the University of Michigan in 1869. Through the years since that time the members of Phi Delta Phi and Marshall Inn have endeavored to uphold and advance the ideals of scholarship and adhere to a code of professional ethics established by the founders.

Since the founding, the membership of the fraternity has grown to some sixty-four thousand initiates in seventy-two chapters in law schools in all parts of North America. In addition there are fifty-one Barrister Inns, as the alumni groups are called, in various cities throughout the country.

Fraternity activities consists of several professional meetings, three banquets, two dances and a picnic during the school year.

Phi Alpha Delta, as a law fraternity, fosters a spirit of friendship and understanding among those in, and preparing for, the legal profession. It affords opportunities for its members to participate in numerous activities by way of an outstanding program each year of professional and social events. It is the desire of each member of Phi Alpha Delta to be of utmost service to his school and to the legal profession.

Phi Alpha Delta was founded as a result of a legal controversy involving a rule adopted by the Supreme Court of Illinois seriously affecting many of the students then preparing for admission.

Originally named the "Law Students League" and renamed "Lambda Epsilon," the name of Phi Alpha Delta was formally adopted in Chicago in November of 1902. At present time there are chapters of Phi Alpha Delta in 74 Class A Law Schools, including the John Jay Chapter at The George Washington University.

A MEMORABLE YEAR

• Congratulations to the Student Body and Faculty of George Washington University for completion of another outstanding year of accomplishments.

• The Staff of your annual has worked exceedingly hard to give you a superb book and one which portrays the highlights of memorable activities.

• We are proud that the 1953 Staff elected us to help design, print and bind the "Cherry Tree." We have earnestly endeavored to fulfill the confidence placed in us.
